OUR STORY

Working in the recreation market made us realize that people don't just take their little ones to the park... but they bring their fur babies too! Dogs are awesome and they play such a vital role in the family unit, so why shouldn't they have their own dedicated park?!

And so, BarkPark was born. We have taken the time to study not just dog behavior in the park but the community it builds when introduced.

PETS ARE GOOD FOR YOUR HEALTH!

Love, companionship, and sloppy kisses are just a few of the reasons people own pets. In fact, pets have proven to be good for your health in many ways.

🐾 STRESS REDUCTION
Pet owners have less stress and recover more quickly from it.

🐾 HEART HEALTH
Studies show that people with pets have healthier heart rates and blood pressure.

🐾 WEIGHT MANAGEMENT
Dog owners are less likely to be obese, due to being more physically active when walking their pets.

🐾 CHOLESTEROL LEVEL
Studies show that owning a pet can decrease cholesterol, triglycerides, and blood pressure.

RESEARCH INTO PRACTICE

PBARK-491

Partners in Research

BarkPark has partnered with Harrison Forbes, an Animal Behaviorist, Dog Trainer and Author, to ensure we provide the highest level of dog park education and product on the market.

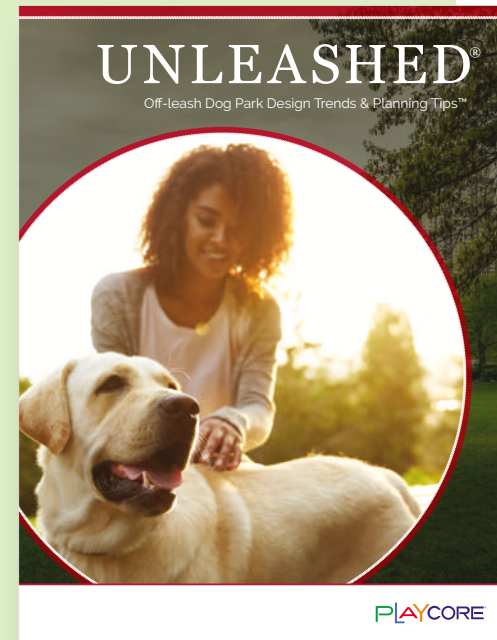

A WORD FROM HARRISON

"As an Animal Behaviorist and trainer, I have witnessed the growth of dog parks and the education of pet owners over the years. Dog parks are an integral part of urban/suburban communities that have far reaching implications beyond a place for a dog to "relieve themselves". Dog parks are not only places where our dogs can enjoy each other but where owners and pet lovers can find kindred spirits."

Bark Parks keep individuals fit and active, increase their enjoyment of the outdoors, and help to increase connectivity among people living in the area."

UNLEASHED

Off-leash Dog Park Design Trends and Planning Tips

Dog ownership continues to rise year over year and the demand for dog-friendly recreation areas is top of mind for cities, parks and multi-family housing communities. The Unleashed guidebook helps communities effectively advocate for the many benefits of off-leash dog parks. Dog parks create community destinations by providing enjoyable ways to recreate for both dog owners and their dogs.

Developed by BarkPark's parent company, PlayCore, Unleashed shows there are many positive effects for individuals that own a dog(s); as well as healthy and social benefits of owning and caring for a dog, and recreating outdoors with pets.

The Unleashed guidebook provides research and best practices to effectively design a dog park and champion initiatives that provide meaningful outcomes supporting overall health and social benefits for the community.

MAKE YOUR DOG PARK A COMMUNITY DESTINATION

Page 39 | Trees, shrubs and artificial shade structures provide aesthetics and shade

2. BIKE PARKING

Page 39 | Bike parking to encourage alternate modes of travel

3. SIGNAGE

4. GATING

Separate entrance to park transition area, as well as to small and large dog areas

5. ACCESSIBILITY

Accessible route of travel from parking lot to and through the space

6. FENCING

All areas fenced with a solid base to discourage digging

7. LIGHTING

Strategically placed lighting for extended hours

8. AGILITY EQUIPMENT

Consider the ratio of equipment to open space to encourage movement and socializing

9. PET WASTE STATIONS

Page 37 | Dog waste bags and receptacles

10. AMENITIES

Page 33 | Benches and receptacles to encourage socialization and a cleanly park

11. SURFACING

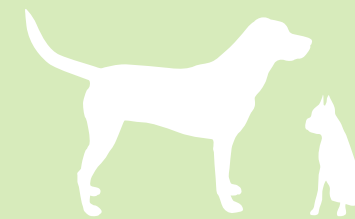

Page 38 | A mix of surfacing to emulate nature and offer walking paths

12. LARGE AND SMALL DOG AREAS

Separate areas for large and small dogs

13. WATER FOUNTAINS

Page 37 | High-Low water fountain for both dogs and their owners

WHY SHOULD YOU HAVE A SEPARATE LARGE AND SMALL DOG AREA?

It is important to have separate areas for large and small dogs in dog parks for the safety of both groups. Smaller dogs are more susceptible to injury or intimidation by larger dogs, and having separate areas enables both groups to play and exercise more confidently.
