What is an Aquatic Playground?

An aquatic playground is a recreational area designed specifically for interactive water play. Unlike swimming or wading pools, aquatic playgrounds are designed to have no standing water. These areas improve public spaces and provide an ideal setting for family recreation.

A community contemplating the addition of a recreational facility should consider an aquatic playground. Children have a natural affinity for water and Water Odyssey aquatic playgrounds provide them with a wholesome interactive play environment.

What is an Aquatic Play Pool?

An aquatic play pool is a recreational area in an aquatic center or water park that designed specifically for interactive water play at a depth of 2 or more inches of water. These areas are commonly known as wading pools & beach-entry pools, and typically require life guards. Water Odyssey provides ideal solutions for these play environments.

Aquatic Playgrounds:

- ◆ Are safer since there is no standing water.
- ◆ Do not require Lifeguards.
- ◆ Are an ideal community recreational attraction.
- ◆ Stimulate children's senses through interactive aquatic play.
- ◆ Are programmable to enhance the play experience.
- ◆ Are "kid friendly".

Aquatic Play Pools:

- ◆ Can incorporate multilevel aquatic play structures for added play value.
- ◆ Spray features can utilize water from the pool's pumping system.
- ◆ Stimulate children's senses through interactive aquatic play.
- ◆ Can generate revenue through ticket sales.
